

Dear parents,

has your daughter or son had a successful career start?

Career Start Career Start

Congratulations!

Many trainees...

...generally complete their vocational training successfully – in all likelihood that includes your daughter or son.

Sometimes however difficulties arise...

...and in the worst case, the vocational training is bound to fail. This can be prevented if problems are identified early on and supporting measures are initiated quickly.

You, being attentive parents...

... may be the first to identify so-called “weak signs”, which might indicate difficulties in the training company and/or at vocational school. This is why you are important co-operation partners for us as experts and vocational training coaches.

It is our job...

...to support and consult trainees and everybody else who is involved in vocational training, e.g. in-company training staff, parents and teachers, throughout the entire period of vocational training.

Our objective...

...is to prevent vocational training from failing and to support young persons so they can successfully complete their training.

Our experience shows...

...that this may not always be possible – though chances are good if everybody involved is attentive and action is taken early on – as soon as the first problems arise.

Weak Signs may be:

Elternbrief (englisch)

We are there to support...

... attentive parents,
... trainees (in the dual education system) and
... committed instructors

Our advice is...

... anonymous,
... confidential and
... free of charge
